RUSSIANS WARY

Will not Fight Against Heavy Odds

MAY FALL BACK ON HARBIN

To-day's Despatches Suggest the Possible Retirement of the Russians From Manchuria, Awaiting Reinforcements

Dalney Captured by the Japs

London, May 9th.—The Morning Post's Shanghai correspondent reports that Dalney was captured on Friday, while the Tokio correspondent of the Daily Telegraph, cabling under the date of Sunday, says: "Dalney was invested yesterday."

New Chungking, May 9th.—The Russians have abandoned New Chungking.

Second Line of Defense Broken

Tokio, May 9th.—The Japanese captured Feng Wang Cheng on Friday. It was the second line of the Russian defence and a slight fight was anticipated. General Kuropatkin pressed forward and attacked before the Russians had recovered from the demoralization of their previous defeat and the confusion into which they had been thrown by their retreat from the Yalu.

Landing parties of the Japanese infantry have driven back small bodies of Russian troops guarding various places in the Liao Tung Peninsula. The Mikado has decorated all the surviving officers who commanded the fire ships and blockading ships which were run into Port Arthur harbor.

Fall of Dalney Again Reported

Shanghai, May 9th.—The Japanese captured Dalney yesterday. Dalney is the Russian commercial airport on the Yellow Sea, lying on the east coast of the Liao Tung peninsula, on one of the islands of Taitung Bay, where it is reported the Japanese have landed in force, twenty-five miles northeast of Port Arthur. At last accounts it was garrisoned by a small number of troops.

Is Vladivostok Fleet at Sea?

Tokio, May 10.—The Daily Telegraph's Seoul correspondent says: "It is believed here that a portion of the Russian Vladivostok fleet has been successfully shut out and is now in the Sea of Japan trying to avoid the Japanese." The Tokio correspondent of the Daily Chronicle says that 15,000 Russians are retreating from Niuchwang to Liao Yang. The correspondent also says that bandits have destroyed the road to Tashicha and to Huicheng. The Russians are making new roads. The correspondent says that bandits have attacked and cut other parts of the railroad, and points out that the capture of Dalney will enable the Japanese to cut off Port Arthur's electric supply.

The Capture of Feng Wang Cheng

Washington, May 9th.—The Japanese Legation has received the following official despatch dated Tokio, May 8th:

"The first army corps reports that on May 6th our cavalry detachments surprised the enemy at Feng Wang Cheng, which was immediately occupied by our infantry detachment."

"The enemy burnt their ammunition before evacuating the strongholds. Refugees of the enemy who have been hiding in the adjoining forests and villages continue to come in and surrender."

"The natives say that the number of Russians who were carried on litters through Feng Wang Cheng on May 2nd, amounted to eight hundred. It is believed that the total casualties of the enemy exceeded three thousand."

"Our army, which landed on the Liao Tung reports that a detachment after repulsing a small body of the enemy occupying Kiliu on May 2nd, destroyed the railway and cut off the telegraphic communication of Port Arthur."

Seoul, May 9th.—The Japanese consul at Gosean telegraphs that a force of Russians, a number unknown, accompanied by Manchurian Mounted bands, crossed the Yalu far above Wiju, advanced southeast and occupied Chang Ju, one hundred miles west of Song Jin on May 8th.

Russia admits that her losses in Sunday's great battle were nearly 2,000 men.

Epidemics Among the Troops

New York, May 10th.—An urgent telegram has been received from Mukden asking for the immediate despatch of one hundred doctors, by a despatch boat from St. Petersburg. Typhus fever, dysentery and small pox have assumed an epidemic character among the Russian troops.

Three More Landings Being Made

San Hai Kwan, May 9th.—There are three Japanese divisions landing from the Gulf of Liao Tung, one at Kichu Lung, one twenty miles north at Hsin San and another at the mouth of Kichu river near the town of Kichu, not far south of New Chungking.

The disembarking of troops at Kichu began yesterday from ten transports. Four gun boats held the Russian fortifications at bay for two hours. The Russians responded with a heavy fire, but were eventually driven from their positions. The loss is not known.

Will Retreat to Harbin If Necessary

Paris, May 10.—A correspondent at St. Petersburg of the Repode Paris telegraphs: "General Kuropatkin has ordered a general retreat to avoid a battle until he has sufficient forces. He actually has at his disposal not more than 15,000 men, excepting the garrison at Port Arthur, which consists of 30,000 men and the garrison at Niuchwang, of 15,000 men."

"A general who knows the secrets of the mobilization, tells me that at least ten thousand men, making up the required 50,000, will leave Daxin on July 21st. He adds, 'We will be very sick if the railway is not working well.'"

"It is not likely that General Kuropatkin will fatigue his troops unnecessarily. If the Japanese advance he will retire from Liao Yang to Mukden or even to Harbin. The retreat is certainly painful, but is indispensable."

The G. T. P. Needed

Bradacets, the commercial and financial journal, under Saturday's date, had the following article regarding the Grand Trunk Pacific project:

"Both political parties agree that another transcontinental road is required. The wheat crop of Manitoba and the Territories amounted last year to 60,000,000 bushels, of which, 27,500,000 were for export to the other Provinces of Canada and to Europe. This year, if all goes well, the crop will be considerably larger, a greater area of land having been prepared for seed. Export grain is carried by rail to Port William and Port Arthur, at the head of Lake Superior, and shipped by water and rail to Montreal and New York, or by all-water through the Welland Canal to Montreal. As the crop does not begin to move till the beginning of October, the whole navigation season is lost. The Canadian Pacific and Canadian Northern have but eight or ten weeks' time in which to convey it from the inland elevators to Lake Superior. The task, indeed, is now more than they can perform; consequently a large quantity of wheat destined for export has to be stored until navigation opens in the spring, at a loss to the farmer of 5 or 7 cents per bushel. The Canadian Pacific carries some of this wheat east all-rail during the winter, but rates are necessarily high. Both sides in Parliament favor the construction of the Grand Trunk Pacific in order to facilitate the carriage of wheat in the fall to Lake Superior and to furnish a complete rail route when navigation closes.

They also favor it because it will open up a new territory in the North-West for the accommodation of American and European immigrants, who are entering that region in constantly increasing numbers. Immigration from the United States into the Canadian North-West began in 1887. Since then about 100,000 Americans have gone in, mostly to the District of Alberta, where free grants are to be had, and where, owing to the mild winters and an abundance of fuel and water, mixed husbandry can be carried on to advantage. The American who obtains a free grant from the Crown cannot get the patent until he takes the oath of allegiance; if he buys from a private holder he may remain a citizen of the United States, but, as such, is not competent to vote. It is believed that the building of the Grand Trunk Pacific through the vast region lying north of the Canadian Pacific and Canadian Northern lines will serve to attract a still greater influx of Americans, as well as of British settlers and settlers from Continental Europe. The immense Peace River valley to the north of Edmonton is said to be capable of growing wheat and, as the western boundary is only 500 miles from the Pacific Ocean via the proposed route of the Grand Trunk Pacific, its flour and other products will, it is expected, find their way to China and Japan. British Columbian ports are nearer to those countries than San Francisco or the American ports on Puget Sound.

Finally, both parties perceive that the development of the North-West through the construction of this road must redound to the advantage of the older Provinces, furnishing them with new markets for their surplus foods and with homes for at least part of their surplus population. To speak plainly, the heavy tariff levied on Canadian products of all sorts entering the United States obliges Canada to seek outlets elsewhere; the "open market" for example, in improving our trade communications with England and in inducing settlers to go in upon the enormous tracts of virgin territory here at home.

The article then outlines the policies of the two parties and continues: "Aside from the benefits which it is likely to confer on the Canadian North-West, the line will throw open to civilization the enormous wooded country extending from the prairie region of Manitoba through the hinterland of Lake Superior to Lake Abitibi, and thence eastward past the headwaters of the St. Maurice to the neighborhood of Lake St. John, north of the city of Quebec. This wilderness, covering over 100,000,000 acres, is reputed to be rich in mica, asbestos, and copper; it is certainly rich in pulpwood and contains extensive tracts of clay land suitable for agriculture. Behind it lies the watershed of Hudson's Bay, as yet practically terra incognita. From Quebec, which will be the chief summer port, to Montreal, the road will run just north of the United States frontier and enter New Brunswick by the St. Francis valley. That region contains a great deal of good land, together with valuable timber; at present it is a desert cut off from the intercolonial by the Little Alleghanias. There is also much timber and good land in Northern New Brunswick, that the road will lead on the way to Montreal. In all likelihood the Pacific terminus of the line will be Port Simpson. From Port Simpson east to the Peace River valley the road will traverse a mountainous country containing coal, silver-lead, and timber. In the Ontario district gold mining has been carried on for years, but, owing to lack of railway facilities, cost of production has been excessive.

"The building of a second transcontinental road by a people not as numerous as the inhabitants of the State of New York is a bold venture. Politics aside, the general belief in Canada is that it will prove remunerative to the Grand Trunk Pacific as well as, indirectly, to the Grand Trunk, while its value to the country as a colonization agency alone cannot fail to repay the outlay."

C. P. R. Train Wrecked

The C.P.R. eastbound express from Estevan to Brandon was wrecked about four o'clock on Tuesday afternoon five miles west of Hartney. Although the train was well filled, fortunately no one was injured, with the exception of a passenger, N.W.M.P., who sustained a slight bruise on his hand. The wreck was caused by a washout, the whole country from Melita east being flooded. The train was carrying a box car loaded with cattle, a baggage car, mail car, a second class car and a first. The engine on striking the bad piece of track sank, but managed to break free, taking the tender with it. The cattle were completely overturned, breaking clear of the trucks, but none of the cattle were injured, being all able to walk out when liberated. The mail car also left the trucks and turned over into the ditch, but the mail clerk escaped with a good shaking up. The baggage car left the track but remained upright on the trucks. Several people who were in this car were badly shaken around, but not seriously hurt. A trunk falling on a dog caused the only fatality. The second class car, which contained about thirty passengers, was left half turned over with the platform and trucks all smashed. The passengers in this car were all badly knocked around, but also escaped unhurt. One individual who was sleeping off the effects of a bad jag was thrown bodily into a seat on the other side of the car, where he curled up comfortably and went to sleep again. The rear car alone remained on the track, but its occupants were also thrown from their seats.

Wilcox Case Going On

Regina, May 6.—The Wilcox case was resumed to-day. The only evidence of importance adduced was that given by Mrs. Wm. Head, of Calgary, who testified to meeting Wilcox in a confectionery store in Calgary shortly before St. Andrew's day.

Wilcox invited her and her husband to a dinner party which he was giving.

Witnesses remarked in a joking way about his extravagance, when Wilcox pulled a roll of money from his inside pocket. He stated that there was not much there, "only about $200."

Witnesses told him he was foolish to carry so much. She could not tell what bank's name was on the bills. Wilcox took no money from the roll, but replaced it in his pocket.

William H. Head, husband of the former witness, was also called, but had no evidence of importance to give.

Mail Clerk "Tom" Gleason gave evidence as to his arrival at Moose Jaw; he stated that Wilcox was alone in the mail car at Moose Jaw after witness left it and while Mail Clerk John Kinney was in the superintendent's office.

The case was continued this afternoon.

THE OIL FIELDS

OF SOUTHERN ALBERTA

Mr. Lineham Gives an Interesting Interview Regarding a New Alberta Enterprise

Mr. John Lineham returned south this morning after spending several days in the town and vicinity. Mr. Lineham is an old timer in the west and well known in Edmonton, though some few years have elapsed since his last visit here. The changes in the interval have been many and he was pleased to note that the town was extending and sharing in the general prosperity and progress of the west. This advancement, he said, was general and the southern towns were sharing it liberally, Calgary, especially making rapid strides.

Mr. Lineham returned recently from an extended tour of the east. Part of his business there was to purchase machinery for operating the oil properties in Southern Alberta in which he is interested.

When seen by a Bulletin representative last evening, Mr. Lineham appeared very certain of the success of the oil fields and satisfied with the progress already made. The properties are located in township 30, range 1, in the extreme southwestern corner of Alberta, and near the oil fields of southeastern British Columbia and northwestern Montana recently opened up.

The company, which is a local one, composed of Alberta men, has secured some six sections of oil lands in that township and have experimented far enough to persuade them that they have a good thing—"One of the biggest things in the west," as Mr. Lineham put it.

Two wells have been dug, one to a depth of 1,020 feet and one to over 300 feet. In the first well sunk oil was struck at 180, 450, 720 and 1020 feet. The first deposits were comparatively small, but the last made a "gusher" of about 200 barrels per day. Piping was put in the hole, which was plugged at a depth of 500 feet to prevent waste. Work was then begun sinking the second well. The quality of the oil Mr. Lineham says is excellent, being nearly fifty per cent illuminating.

During the summer the company will be engaged building tanks, vats, etc., and a refining plant capable of taking care of the product will be installed next winter.

The company have surveyed a town site on their property and expect to have a post office opened there during the summer. There is also a rumored possibility of the narrow gauge road from Cardston being extended to the district.

Blaze at Golden

The three storey building in course of erection for the Golden and the Bank Kootenay Trading Co. was burned on Thursday. The fire started in the rear of the building by tar boiling over on the fire. The flames spread so quickly that the workmen were obliged to abandon their tools, and the fight with blowing at the time threatened the whole town with complete destruction, but this was averted by the splendid work of the fire brigade, who confined the fire to the warehouse of C. A. Warren near the post office. The loss to the Trading company was $12,000, who were insured for $5,000; C. A. Warren's loss to $8,000, with $5,000 insurance.

British Colonists Satisfied

W. H. Sunderland, one of the British colonists who left on Saturday for Westminster wrote Mr. Wade before leaving town the following letter expressing the satisfaction of himself and Mrs. Sunderland with the treatment they received here:—

May 6th, 1904.

Dear Sir,—Before leaving Edmonton I feel I should like to thank you on behalf of my wife and myself for the satisfactory arrangements you have made for our comfort under the Grand Stand. We have been happy and comfortable and are looking forward to our trip down the river to-morrow. We are very thankful we decided to come this route instead of via Saskatoon.

Again thanking you for your advice and assistance. Yours sincerely,
W. H. SUNDERLAND.

Yukon River's Rapid Rise

Dawson, Yukon, May 7.—Seven horses which were employed on the White Horse mail stage route were drowned yesterday while crossing the Yukon river. Driver "Kirk" and others nearly lost their lives owing to the sudden rise of the river. The river is jammed with ice below the crossing in the canyon and the water rose twenty feet in a short time, flooding the low ground around the roadhouse. The occupants of the roadhouse were aroused at daybreak by the water which was running into their bunka. A canoe was utilized by the occupants who got safely away, but it was found impossible to save the horses.

LARGE RAILWAY CONTRACTOR HERE

Mr. J. M. Breckenridge came in on Saturday from Wardner, B.C., accompanied by Mrs. Breckenridge, and left yesterday by train for Fort Saskatchewan and points east.
Mr. Breckenridge is the senior partner of the firm of Breckenridge & Lutz, of the Crow's Nest Lumber Company, who are known throughout the West as large railway contractors. While nothing has been given out by Mr. Breckenridge in regard to the purpose of his visit here it is understood to be in connection with the C.N.R. construction and his present trip to the Vermilion is taken to be an exploratory trip to investigate the nature of the country through which it may be his lot to grade the main line for the company.

WAB NOTES

The Japanese war department has issued the following story of the great land engagement of Sunday, May 1st:

"Gen. Kuroki, commanding the first army, reports that on the 26th of April preparations were made for laying bridges across the Yalu river. On the same day detachments of the Imperial guard and of the second division attacked and dispersed the enemy on islands in the river and occupied the islands. In these engagements sixteen of the Imperial Guard were seriously and nine slightly wounded, while there were no casualties in the second division. The enemy retreated, carrying many dead and wounded, toward Chutienchang. A Russian cavalryman taken prisoner said that the 22nd, 23rd and 27th infantry regiments of the Eastern Siberian sharpshooters formed the van of the Russian force. Lieutenant Sengeloff, commanding the mountain troops of the 22nd regiment, was found dead and was buried at Wiju. Ninety-five dead horses were found."

"From noon of the 26th until the 27th the enemy fired intermittently upon Wiju, but no reply was made. On the 26th, two gunboats, two torpedo boats and two steamers, detached from the squadron of Admiral Hosoia, ascended the Yalu and exchanged shots with the enemy in Antsushan and silenced him. The detachments suffered no damage. On April 28th two infantry companies of the Imperial Guard reconnoitred Hushan, and a part of the company was detached to Sitsayuen, from which place the enemy fled, leaving five dead. The enemy fired at long range from the neighborhood of Chintienchong upon Wiju without much effect upon our works."

"On April 29th the 12th division commenced bridging the river at Sukichin, and completed the work on the morning of the 30th and the army crossed. From 10.40 a.m. to 1.30 p.m. there was severe firing on all sides, but the enemy was soon silenced. Our losses were five officers slightly wounded and of non-commissioned officers and men, two killed and twenty-two wounded. At 8 p.m. of the same day the bridge over the main stream was completed, and the army crossing advanced upon Hushan. On the same day the detachment from Admiral Hosoia's squadron advanced below Anna, two and fought at close range with 400 of the enemy's infantry and cavalry. The enemy's artillery also directed a heavy fire against the detachment, but retreated after about an hour's firing. There were no casualties on our side."

"On May 1, at daybreak, our forces commenced cannonading and silenced the enemy's artillery on the hill northwest of Yushaukon and at 7.30 all divisions advanced to the attack and by 9 a.m. took possession of the heights, extending from Chintienchong to the north of Makou and Yushaukon."

"The Russians made two stands. The enemy's strength included all of the third division, one cavalry brigade, about forty quick-firing guns, and eight machine guns. We have taken twenty-eight quick-firing guns, many rifles, much ammunition, more than twenty officers, and many non-commissioned officers and men prisoners. I am informed that Maj. Kashtalinsky, commander of the 3rd Eastern Siberian rifle brigade, and Lt. Gen. Sassiulch, commander of the second Siberian army corps, were wounded. Our casualties number about 700 and the Russian loss is more than 800."

The Russians were forced to abandon Antung. They burned the town and retreated to Fenghuanchang. The Japanese now control the estuary of the Yalu river."

St. Petersburg, May 2.—The general staff has issued the following account of the actions on the Yalu river:

"From General Kuropatkin's telegrams it appears that the Japanese, having crossed to the right bank of the Yalu, near the village of Sindagi, occupied the villages of Khussan and Litzen. General Sassiulch, with a view of reconquering Litzen and the heights near Khussan, ordered on April 22 a thorough reconnaissance of the positions which the Japanese occupied, and then sent a detachment, commanded by Staff Lieut. Col. Lind, to attack the enemy."

"The positions near Litzen and Khussan were defended by a Japanese force, consisting of two battalions of the Fourth regiment of the Guard, with mountain guns, and a small force of cavalry of the Guard. With the assistance of our artillery from Potientsky our troops dislodged the Japanese from their positions, losing few sharpshooters killed and thirteen wounded. The Japanese left on the position they vacated, ten dead and twenty-six wounded. They also carried away a number of their wounded and others scrambled down the cliffs to the Yalu. The enemy succeeded in removing their mountain guns.

"After occupying the heights near Sindagi, where our troops came under a heavy fire from a Japanese battery posted north of Wiju, two of our guns shelled a pontoon bridge and compelled the Japanese to dismantle it."

"The Japanese troops at Litzen and Khussan retreated, partly to the Yalu and partly northward."

"Up to the present ten carabines and many cartridges and maps have been found on the Japanese positions."

"Conspicuous gallantry was displayed by the light infantry of the 10th and 12th regiments under Lieutenant Yantchikha."

"At 10 o'clock on the morning of April 29th a Japanese force of 1,500 infantry with twelve guns began to cross the river at Ambikhe and Schogapoudy. Near Ambikhe there was a small Russian detachment under Lieut. Col. Goussey, which was compelled to retire under the sustained fire of two Japanese batteries of six guns each. Four men were wounded and Lieut-Col. Goussey was bruised on the head and left arm. Our mountain guns were unable to return the enemy's fire on account of the excessive range and reinforcements were sent to the detachment with orders to drive the Japanese beyond the Yalu."

"Gen. Mitrokhin reports that Japanese warships at the mouth of the Yalu on April 29th opened fire on our troops, the cannonading lasting 20 minutes. No damage was done."

"On April 30th from 10 o'clock in the morning until five in the afternoon the Japanese shelled our position at Turenchen from their batteries on the left bank, where they had posted 24 field guns and twelve 120 millimetre siege guns, which were cleverly masked in earthworks. They fired a minimum of two thousand projectiles. Our troops stuck stubbornly to the pontoon at Turenchen."

"On the morning of April 30th the Japanese recrossed the Yalu at Sindagi, attacking our troops posted on the heights near the village of Khussan and turning our left flank. Owing to the great superiority of the Japanese force, we retreated to a position near the village of Potientsky."

"Our losses at the Turenchen pontoon were Lieut. Pahlhoff killed and Lieut-Col. Mahler, commanding a battery of the Sixth artillery brigade, seriously wounded in the head. Col. Meier, Capt. Vorbeif, Capt. Sapojnikoff, Lieut. Philadelphoff and Capt. Atroschenko, wounded. Lieut. Rutreff, of the 2nd regiment was seriously wounded in the head on the pontoon near Khussan."

"Our losses in men have not yet been definitely ascertained, but up to the present it is only known that three were killed and 19 wounded."

"At 4 a.m. on May 1st (Sunday) Japanese field batteries and 47 guns opened a terrific fire on our position at Turenchen and on our troops posted near Potientsky. The overwhelming superiority of the Japanese in artillery and the heavy losses their fire inflicted on our troops compelling the Japanese to retreat. General Sassiulch made it clear to General Sasulitch that it was impossible to hold Turenchen. Consequently the troops were ordered to retire from Turenchen, while still holding the Potientsky road."

"When General Sassiulch dispatched his telegram the Russian troops were fighting in good order from Turenchen and Schakchody to their present position and the battle was continuing at Potientsky and Tehingou."

Colds

How often you hear it remarked: "It's only a cold" and a few days later learn that the man is on his back with pneumonia. This is of such common occurrence that a cold, however slight, should not be disregarded.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

has gained its great popularity and extensive sale by its prompt cure of this most common ailment. It always cures and is pleasant to take. It counteracts any tendency of a cold to result in pneumonia.

Price 25c. Large Size 50c.

REVILLON FRERES

Edmonton's Great Departmental Stores

LOCAL

—Town council meets to-night.
—Reduced rates on all railways are announced for the celebration of Victoria Day in Calgary.

—The annual Sabbath School meeting will be held in the lecture room of the Methodist church this evening.

—Friday being Arbor Day the banks will be closed. It is not known yet whether the stores will close or not.

—The Mays Coal Company intended sending two large scows down the river yesterday to their mines at Clover Bar, but the sudden fall of a foot in the river during Sunday night made it impracticable.

—Regina. —Mr. Fry, of Dobson, Jackson & Fry, Edmonton, is in the city to-day arranging to commence operations on the waterworks pipe line.

—Eye Opener: Organized newspaper co-operation is indispensable in any matter that appeals to the public at large. If the Fair Committee does not understand this, it is time it did.

—Pat's Hard Luck is the name of a burlesque comedy to be put on in Robertson hall this evening. An athletic program of club swinging, horizontal bar work, etc., will be given.

—The Woman's Christian Temperance Union will hold their regular meeting to-morrow afternoon at 2.30, in the Young Men's club room (old Methodist church) on Plaza street. All interested in temperance work will be welcomed.

—L. O. L. No. 1294 will hereafter meet in Sandison's Hall on the second and fourth Thursdays of each month. The next meeting will be held in the new hall on Thursday, 28th inst.

—It was decided by the Port Saskatchewan Board of Trade at a recent meeting to have a photograph of the village taken to be used on envelopes for the purpose of advertising the Port.

—William Whyte, second vice-president of the C.P.R., informed the deputations of Medicine Hat merchants that the rumors that Medicine Hat crews were to be removed to Calgary were untrue.

—Vancouver, May 8.—The Empress off Japan, which was delayed for days here owing to mechanical troubles, left for Hong Kong yesterday. The C. P. R. saved $5,000 forfeit by 117 minutes.

—Regina West: One of the scows used by the C.P.R. in freighting goods across the Qu'Appelle valley, upset yesterday and left its load of machinery at the bottom of the water.

—F. G. Carter while bicycling along Jasper avenue suffered a nasty accident last evening. The wheel struck a stone, turning the handle bars, and throwing the rider with such force as to dislocate his right elbow and severely sprain his left wrist.

—There was a good turn out at the baseball grounds last night and a good evening's practice was put in, though the pleasure of the game was rather dimmed by a painful accident to F. Wright. The ball struck him on the left arm above the elbow breaking a small bone.

—The gun club held the first shoot of the season at the exhibition grounds tonight. The bus leaves the Windsor hotel for the grounds at 7 o'clock sharp. All lovers of the gun are invited to turn out and as this is the first shoot of the summer, it is hoped there will be a full turn out.

—The Board of Management of the Presbyterian church engaged carriages yesterday to take the ministers in attendance at the Theological School for a drive around the city. The visitors expressed pleasure at their reception here and at the signs of progress in the town.

—The C.P.R. company are preparing to instal at their watering tanks along their lines in the west, apparatus for softening the water. The alkali water found at many points is very unhealthy for the locomotives and it is with the object of precipitating the alkali that the apparatus is to be installed.

—Mr. G. Dickson who, proposes starting a flax mill here, leaves on Thursday for Scotland to bring out machinery for the mill. Mr. Dickson advises farmers to not so heavily into flax growing this season as the mill will not be in operation. It will be ready for next season's crop however and will be prepared to handle all the flax offered.

—Regina West: There is a new song going the rounds of the press, which runs as follows: "We don't want to buy at your place; we won't trade there any more; you'll be sorry when you see us go into some other store. You can't sell us any more goods, we have opened wide our eyes, we don't want to trade at your store because you don't advertise."

—Record: The farmers of the immediate surroundings are quite elated over the fact that a creamery is to be going common. Mr. Tolson, who is acknowledged to be one of the most, if not the most, progressive business men of the locality, has taken the matter in hand, and will proceed with the building next week. It is expected the creamery will be in working order by the 7th of June and prepared to take the cream of 1,500 cows.

—The Qu'Appelle Progress says:—A party consisting of one hundred and forty men, women and children from Billitany, France, are here awaiting the resumption of traffic on the Prince Albert line. These settlers appear to be a hardy, intelligent class, who will no doubt give a good account of themselves when they get settled in their new homes in Prince Albert district. In the meantime they are coasting the C.P.R. a pretty penny during the delay.

—One of the local lacrosse men has asked the Bulletin to stir up the players to organize for the season. Many of the other towns are organized and practicing regularly and it is felt that Edmonton should be able to put a creditable team in the field. As the weather is favorable and the other athletic organizations are already setting in shape, it is in order for the lacrosse men to fall in line.

—A meeting to hold on Thursday evening, when all players are requested to attend. The place of meeting will be announced later.

—A fine breeding pen of Buff Orpington fowls which were brought out by Mr. Marshall from England, excited the admiration of several local fanciers yesterday. The birds are from the celebrated Cooke's strain. Mr. H. A. Alsop has some fowls now in his pens raised from eggs of this flock sent out from England last year.

—Ottawa, May 4.—At the Agriculture Committee to-day Mr. Macdonald was forced to admit that the temperature in the Peace River country was as favorable during the summer months as around Edmonton, and that the Peace River district was just as good for mixed farming.

—Qu'Appelle Progress: With one bridge condemned and the approach to the other from two to three feet under water for over two hundred yards, communication with districts north of the Qu'Appelle river has become rather difficult. The water is now at a higher level than at any time since 1882, and shows no tendency to fall at present. The main body of ice in the lakes is still solid. When that breaks up and flows begin drifting down stream it will be impossible to cross except by boats as the roadway is gradually washing out now. There is very slight danger of the town being flooded, fortunately, as it would take a further rise of over four feet to do that.

—Free Press: The Free Press commented recently, in not very flattering terms, upon a letter from Edmonton decrying this country. Another voice has been heard from Edmonton; but this time the tone is very different. Some weeks ago Mr. Frederick Shogren, of Stony Plain, Alberta, wrote a letter to the Echo, weekly magazine published in Berlin, Germany. The letter was published. Mr. Shogren gave an impartial description of his part of the country. Without going in for exaggerated rhapsodies, he simply stated that the land was fertile and capable of yielding vast returns for well directed and intelligent labor. He did not hide that there were hardships, the settler had to face, but he insisted upon the fact that all who possessed energy, health and perseverance could work out their own great reward.

—The Edmonton Jobbing House has a full line of Granite, Delft and Tinsware. Carpets, Linoleum, Oilcloths, etc. All new goods recently imported.

—Box and Cook Stoves. Also some second hand Furniture to be sold out at low prices. Call and inspect our goods and prices before buying.

A Doctor's Sudden Call

Morris, May 7.—A tragic incident occurred here last night at the Commercial hotel when Dr. E.M. Drought died suddenly of heart failure while sitting in a chair, and when he leaned back he gasped his last. He was 42 years old and unmarried. He came from Ireland last October and has only been practising in this town for six weeks.

OFF FOR THE NORTH

A considerable party left by the stage this morning for points in the north. Messrs. F. Ross, of Ross Bros., J. Kelly and C. Johnston went out to the Landing. Messrs. Swiggett, Felt, Young, Elliott and Powell went down to Polk & Swiggett's goats on Great Slave Lake.

Germany Aroused

Berlin, May 7.—The impression is spreading that the Kaiser is working up a sentiment in Germany and is interfering in the Far East in favor of Russia. The reasons for this impression are statements contained in two public speeches which His Majesty has made since his return from the Mediterranean cruise.

LAST SAD RITES

(Bulletin Special Dispatch). Winnipeg, May 10th.—The funeral of the late W. P. McCreary, M.P. for Selkirk, took place from his home here on Saturday. The immense concourse gathered to express their respect for the departed and their sympathy for the bereaved, was a most impressive tribute to the esteem in which he was held by all classes of the community.
